Gov. Hodges Appointed As Commerce Sec.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy announced another member of his Cabinet today. Advance indications were the choice is North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges for secretary of commerce.

Kennedy, spending the weekend at the Atlantic shore home of his parents, refused to engage in any prior discussion of the announcement he scheduled for a mid-morning news conference.

But there were these straws in the wind:
The president-elect was reported three weeks ago to have decided to name Hodges, 62, a textile industrialist before entering politics, to the commerce post.

Hodges, a Kennedy-for-president backer, soon to retire as governor, left North Carolina Friday night by train for Palm Beach.

Kennedy headquarters said Friday night that Kennedy would disclose a Cabinet appointment this morning and that "a gentleman of prominence" being named to the position would be at the president-elect's side for the announcement.

In advance of today's announcement, the president-elect had filled only one of the 10 Cabinet posts—Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff as secretary of health, education and welfare.

The only other Kennedy appointments so far, outside his White House staff, have been awarded economics Prof. David P. Bell as budget director and Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams as assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Shortly before leaving Washington, the president-elect said he hopes to have his Cabinet completed or nearly completed, by the end of next week.

Kennedy arrived in this resort community late Friday.

Kennedy's assistant press secretary, Andrew Hatcher, disclosed plans for an announcement here Sunday which he said will be of major significance.

Hatcher said it won't be a Cabinet post selection, but will deal with "the designation of a major responsibility" and the designation of personnel to carry it out after Kennedy's inauguration Jan. 20.

The president-elect plans to fly back to Washington Monday. On Tuesday he will confer at the White House with President Eisenhower regarding the transfer of government control from Republicans to Democrats.

Accused Not to Take the Stand

LAKE BUTLER, Fla. (AP) — Attorneys for four convicts on trial for killing a cellmate said they didn't plan to put any of the defendants on the witness stand to testify as the murder trial neared the jury today.

The state completed its case Thursday against James Rankin, 27, Jose Zuniga, 19; Andrew King, 22, and John Vile, 28. Rankin is from Cherry Valley, Ark.

Attorneys had trouble when they tried to get other convict witnesses to testify about the strangulation of Calvin Cook, 25, on March 28 when he and 11 other prisoners were in a disciplinary cell at the state prison in Raiford.

One witness was cited for contempt of court, one pleaded the Fifth Amendment and four others developed faulty memories.

Allen Jenkins, 20, who is serving a life term for murder from Hillsborough County, refused to take the oath to tell the truth. He was cited for contempt and will be sentenced later.

Lumumba Is Recaptured Sent to Camp

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba, arrested in the Congo hinterlands while fleeing, was returned to this capital today and whisked off to an army camp in hand-cuffs.

Col. Joseph Mobutu, the army leader, said Lumumba will be tried for inciting the army to rebellion and other crimes.

The former premier, arrested Thursday night at Port Francqui, was flown the 500 miles to Leopoldville under escort of Congolese soldiers.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Col. Joseph Mobutu announced today that his troops have arrested Patrice Lumumba and are bringing him back to Leopoldville.

Lumumba was arrested in Kasai Province Thursday night with six of his traveling companions, four days after escaping from his guarded premier's residence in the capital.

There was still some uncertainty over the exact place of Lumumba's arrest and his present whereabouts.

In an announcement issued at his office, Mobutu, Congolese army commander, said Lumumba had been arrested at Lulabour, capital of Kasai Province.

Other highly reliable sources said the arrest actually took place some 200 miles to the north, near Port Francqui, a river port on the Kasai River.

These sources said that Mobutu troops at Port Francqui telegraphed the news of Lumumba's arrest early this morning and at the same time urgently asked for reinforcements because they feared an attempt by troops loyal to Lumumba to rescue him.

There was speculation that the Congolese army commander wanted to have Lumumba safely back in Leopoldville before telling the full story of his capture.

After Lumumba was ousted as premier by Mobutu in mid-September he remained in the official premier's residence, The United Nations gave him a protective guard but this was withdrawn after he slipped out of the house Sunday night. He eluded Congolese soldiers assigned by Mobutu to keep the ex-premier from escaping. Mobutu held a warrant for his arrest.

The U.N. spokesman said Lumumba could expect no United Nations protection outside of the capital.

Department Store Sales Dip Some

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended Nov. 27 dropped eight per cent from those in the similar week of last year.

The Little Rock area led the slump with a drop of 14 per cent. Louisville and Memphis fell 10 per cent each, the St. Louis area down six per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities lagged four per cent.

Sales for the four week period ended Nov. 26 were also eight per cent below those of the corresponding period of last year and cumulative sales for the year to date were one per cent under those of last year.

Rocky Late for Nixon Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York showed up 13 minutes late today for his breakfast with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Oh, Dick, are you here already?" Rockefeller said as he approached Nixon's office in the capital at 8:43 a.m. "I took the train."

Rockefeller explained that he had wandered by the east front of the Capitol looking at the recent reconstruction of the building and at the stands going up for the inauguration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"I'll have to do that myself some time," said Nixon, who was the Republican candidate against Kennedy.

Traffic Toll on Upward Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic toll is on an upward trend. The National Safety Council reported Thursday that fatalities totaled 3,080 in October, the highest number for that month since 3,918 were recorded in October 1955.

October's deaths showed an increase of 7 per cent over the total for October of last year.

The toll for the first 10 months this year rose to 31,120, a gain of 2 per cent over the corresponding period of 1959.

But the rate of fatalities in relation to miles traveled through the first 10 months of this year was at a record low of 5.3. That means 5.3 persons were killed for every 100 million miles of travel by motor vehicles.

Malinovsky Is Just Resting

MOSCOW (AP) — Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky is reported "resting"—Soviet jargon for vacationing.

An official announcement Thursday described Marshal Andrei Grechko as "acting defense minister" and made no mention of Malinovsky. This touched off speculation. Several hours later a Soviet spokesman, questioned a newsman, said Malinovsky was simply away for a rest. Grechko is Malinovsky's deputy.

Adenauer Has to Cancel Trips

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has been suffering from a bronchial attack today canceled trips to Paris and London. He was to have departed Sunday.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the trips were called off on the advice of the 84-year-old chancellor's physicians. Adenauer has been suffering from a slight cold and bronchitis since last Saturday. Doctors said today his condition is satisfactory and he no longer has any fever but feared journeys at this time of the year might bring a relapse.

Tunney's Daughter Engaged to Wed

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The engagement of Joan Tunney, 21, daughter of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, to Lynn Carter Wilkinson Jr., 23, a senior at Northwestern University, has been announced by her parents.

Wilkinson is from Whitefish Bay, Wis. No wedding date has been set.

Red Summit Meet Failed With Policy

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP) — The accomplishments of communism's summit conference apparently have been minor.

No major manifesto on Communist aims and tactics was announced after the breakup of the meeting Thursday, indicating little progress was made in settling fundamental issues revolving about the policy of coexistence.

A final communique claimed, however, that harmony prevailed. (Red China, whose leaders have disputed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's theories on coexistence, also presented a front of harmony.)

A Peiping broadcast said the conference was held in a cordial atmosphere and ended in complete understanding, unity and solidarity.

This other show of unity had been expected by Western diplomats regardless of whether the Communist leaders reached any fundamental agreement.

The communique, however, was mostly devoted to listing the Communist parties from 81 countries represented.

What went on in more than three weeks of secret discussions, believed to have been sharp at times, was covered in these two terse paragraphs: "The participants in the conference exchanged experiences and acquainted themselves with the views and positions of each other, discussed the current questions of contemporary international developments and the Communist movement, in the interests of the mutual struggle for common aims of peace, democracy, national independence and socialism, and unanimously adopted a statement of the Communist and workers' parties and also an appeal to the peoples of the whole world."

"The discussion of all questions took place in an atmosphere of fraternal friendship resting on the foundation of the immutable principles of Marxism-Leninism and proletarian internationalism."

By Soviet interpretation, proletarian internationalism means Moscow leadership of world communism.

Red China's delegation at the conference was led by president Liu Shao-Chi. Reports in the Peiping press have indicated he contested the Khrushchev view that communism is now so strong that it can win out against capitalism without war, and that war can and must be avoided. The Red Chinese view is that war is inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

Caracas Students Still Hold Out

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Leftist students still manned machine guns in their so-called "Stalingrad" at Caracas University today but the government claimed it had the rebellion in hand.

Covered by fire from their fortress dormitory, a band of students sallied forth Thursday night on a bus-burning raid in nearby Plaza Bolivar and for the first time ran into gunfire from armed civilians supporting the government.

There were no reports of casualties from the 20-minute battle. One person was killed and another wounded by snipers Thursday day, however, bringing the death toll in seven days of rioting and disorder to nine.

Castro Says U.S. Fund to Aid Refugees

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
HAVANA (AP) — The government-controlled press today charged the United States is giving aid to Cuban counterrevolutionaries by selling inside $1 million to assist refugees from Fidel Castro's regime.

But the press refrained from mentioning the reason Washington decided to assist the refugees: The United States now considers Castro's regime Communist-controlled.

President Eisenhower said Friday he was releasing the funds under terms of the Mutual Security Act, which provides assistance for refugees from Communist-dominated lands. About 30,000 refugees from Cuba have congregated in Florida.

Even though the official Cuban version of Eisenhower's action was scrambled, anti-Castro Cubans in downtown Havana streets were exhilarated. They refer to Miami as "West Berlin."

More trouble was shaping up for Castro in his bitter fight with the Cuban Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Reliable church sources said the hierarchy has drafted a strongly worded reply to Castro's accusation that the clergy accepted bribes to preach against his regime.

Cuba's top prelates met privately for several hours later, the sources said, and drew up a firm rejection of Castro's attack last Sunday in which he termed priests "henchmen in cassocks."

Government Certain to Cost More

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Though some have criticized it as vague, the report of the President's Commission on National Goals was costly specific on one point: The cost of government will rise by billions and billions of dollars in the 1960s.

Taxes probably cannot be lowered and "may even have to be increased," the bipartisan commission told President Eisenhower this week.

Can a free economy stand still higher taxes? The commission says it can, if national output reaches the commission's target—a rise of 3.4 per cent a year.

"A moderate increase in tax rates need not, if it necessarily were understood, materially impair the incentive or the morale of the American people, nor alter the primary reliance of the economy on private choice," said the report.

But it added that the rise of living standards would be "perhaps at rates below those of the recent past."

The commission's chairman, Dr. Henry M. Wriston, told the National Press Club Thursday no increase in federal taxes may be needed, but "I don't believe the needs of the next decade in city and state taxes."

He said the commission did not propose a greater concentration of responsibility and power in Washington, but rather a greater responsibility for the cities, states, private organizations and individuals.

The White House advisers indicated total costs will be fairly high.

1. Military costs must rise, by unguessable amounts, to provide a "secure deterrent" against Soviet aggression and Red China's "blatant hostility."

2. Foreign aid must go up. U.S. investment, public and private, in the underdeveloped countries must rise from the 1960 rate of $3.4 billion a year to as much as $5.5 billion, within five years.

3. To combat city decay, "further urban renewal programs costing as much as $4 billion a year are needed." Presumably this means combined federal, state and local outlays; if so, the new figure means at least doubling the total spending of the three levels of government.

Bowling Is Not New to Rest of World — This Area Is Just Late With the Sport

By MARY ANITA LASETER

What is rated as America's most popular indoor sport?

"A throng of people will probably answer 'Bowling' and they will be absolutely right. Played for centuries in Germany and the Low Countries, this sport was actually part of a religious ceremony in Germany at one time."

It has achieved its greatest popularity in the U.S., where it was introduced from Holland in colonial times by the Dutch of New Amsterdam (New York). From 1623 to 1840 it was played on the green, the principal resort of the bowlers being the square just north of the Battery still called Bowling Green.

Originally, this was a game using nine pins in diamond formation. A gambling element and the Puritans clashed in reference to the game, and the result was that "nine-pins" was prohibited by law. The danger of restrictive legislation was largely removed by the addition of a tenth pin, resulting in the game of "ten-pins," the pastime is vogue today. The pins, of course, are set in triangular formation.

The American Bowling game is played to some extent in Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Germany. But in the latter country it is still the usual thing to find the game of "nine-pins" with its pins in diamond formation and the players using solid balls on alleys of cement, asphalt, slate, marble or wood.

From 1700 to 1800 the game of Bowls was played in this country, and it is still enjoyed elsewhere. It is portrayed on a stained glass window at the rear of the corridor of the Bowling Green building, 11 Broadway, N.Y. The first covered bowling alleys were made of hardened clay or of slate, but the modern ones used are of pine or maple wood.

Whether the game is Bowling or Bowls its name is derived from the Latin "bulla," a globe, and the Old French "boule," ball. To throw a little local light on the subject let's take a look at the newest addition to the sport of bowling in our area, the Gaslight Bowl in Arkia Village where Blue Archer is the king-pin.

It's true that the old-fashioned swinging doors are superimposed on the glass doors of the entrance. But there the likeness of something old ceases, for a modern example of bowling alleys at their best are found inside.

But the public doesn't have to be sold on this sport, as its response to the Gaslight Bowl has been so overwhelming that additional alleys have already become necessary. 10 leagues with players from Hope, Prescott, Emmet, and surrounding area, play each week.

They are the Classic League, the Pin-up League, the Gaslight Belles, the Inter-City Business Men, the Commercial League, the Lamp Lighters Couples, The Bowling Belles, the Twilight Couples Men's Scratch League No. 1, and The Midnites.

Sees No Fight for Power in GOP Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said after meeting with Vice President Richard M. Nixon today there is no struggle for power in the Republican party.

Rockefeller said he and the vice president have agreed they must cooperate to make the party a "positive, progressive force in America."

The governor, however, did not back down from statements he has made in the last few days which question the role of Nixon in the party.

Rockefeller again agreed that Nixon is the titular head of the party. But he said that National Chairman Thruston B. Morton is the actual head of the GOP because the national committee is the vehicle through which the party operates.

Rockefeller passed up an opportunity to give Morton full endorsement for re-election as chairman. He praised Morton, long-known as a Nixon supporter, as an outstanding leader.

But when asked if he thought another man should be national chairman, Rockefeller merely said it was not his position to name the chairman—the national committee does that.

The meeting between Nixon and Rockefeller was their first since early in the campaign.

Rockefeller had been a rival for Nixon in the campaign.

Nasser Takes Over Belgian Holdings

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian government today instructed its ambassador in Cairo to lodge a strong protest with the United Arab Republic over President Gamal Abdel Nasser's seizure of Belgian firms.

Public Health Minister Paul Meyers announced the move after a Cabinet meeting. He added that the Belgian envoy in Cairo is being recalled for consultations.

A government statement said Belgium will seek international redress unless adequate compensation is paid for the properties. Political sources said this probably means the International Court at The Hague.

The government said the reason the U.A.R. gave for the seizures "defies law and common sense." The Cairo press viewed the move as retaliation against the expulsion of the U.A.R. envoy from the Congo. It blamed Belgian advisers in the Congo for the ouster.

The government said two firms were nationalized by the U.A.R., the Belgian International Bank in Egypt, and the Cairo Electric Railways & Helopolis Oasis Co.

Informed sources placed the value of all the properties at $10 million.

Economic spokesmen pointed out that the U.A.R. already had put control over Belgian companies in Egypt.

Ribicoff Is Secretary of Welfare

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff has a Cabinet post—the first announced—in John F. Kennedy's administration. And the president-elect is reported ready to name David B. Bell, a fiscal specialist, as budget director.

Kennedy Thursday picked Ribicoff, one of his earliest boosters, to be secretary of health, education and welfare. Ribicoff promptly asserted that his views in this general field are "on all fours with the philosophy of President-elect Kennedy."

Kennedy arranged a mid-morning conference today with Bell, who served as an aide to President Truman and earlier in that administration was top economist in the Budget Bureau's Fiscal Division. Bell, 41, now is secretary of Harvard University's Graduate School of Public Administration.

The start on filling important jobs outside the White House staff came Thursday morning when Kennedy told newsmen he had picked retiring Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to be assistant secretary of state in charge of African affairs.

Five hours later Kennedy reappeared on the front steps of his home with Robert A. Lovett, a Republican who was secretary of defense and under secretary of state in the Truman administration.

Kennedy strongly indicated he had tried unsuccessfully to persuade Lovett, now a New York investment banker, to serve in the new Democratic regime.

"I would love to see him come back," Kennedy said, adding that "it is a great regret to me that he has retired" from further government service.

Ribicoff likewise was present when Kennedy announced he would head the Welfare Department—an agency which will have a key role in preparing for Congress the new administration's programs in the fields of medical care for the aged, social security generally, and aid to education.

Ribicoff's term as governor has two years to run. He plans to resign when his nomination to the $25,000-a-year Cabinet post is confirmed by the Senate.

The Connecticut governor spearheaded Kennedy's unsuccessful bid for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination in 1956 and this year he was Kennedy's floor manager at the party's national convention.

Another Kennedy caller was Rep. Stewart Udall, D-Ariz., who has been mentioned as a possible choice for secretary of the interior.

Udall said Kennedy asked the congressman to see him again next week.

Battle of N. O. School Boycott Still Going on

By PERRY MULLEN
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — New Orleans ended 10 days of token school integration today with the Louisiana Legislature forcing new defiance of a federal court while moving toward a system of both public and private schools.

The weekend holiday offered a respite from pickets who have screamed hatred at one school where a boycott by white pupils showed signs of weakening.

A complete boycott of white pupils held through the week at McDonogh No. 19 elementary school, attended by three Negro girls in the first grade. Afro women and a few men concentrated their picketing on the William French School, where 10 white children joined one Negro student Friday.

Only one white child was brought to the French school last Monday. Five more showed up Thursday and another four Friday. The two schools have a total enrollment of over 1,000. Many of the pupils have been going to school in an adjoining parish.

United States marshals escorted the Negroes to and from school. Patrolmen provided protection for white children pushing near demonstrators to enter French school. Boiling pickets and spectators were held across the street from the school by 100 or more police.

The Louisiana House gave quick, unanimous approval Friday to a bill providing grants-in-aid funds for parents who wish to send their children to private schools. A sponsor said the measure would not interfere with the public school system. The measure won speedy approval from a Senate committee Friday night.

Leases were signed on two buildings to be converted into private schools for pupils in the first three grades of French and McDonogh schools.

C. E. Vetter, a member of the Downtown Citizens' Council in New Orleans, said volunteers would work on the structures over the weekend and classes may be started in them Monday.

A three-judge federal court issued sweeping injunctions against Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' other state officials and the legislature Wednesday to prevent them from stopping integration. The court said any legislation that defeated the right of Negroes to attend public schools is unconstitutional.

Despite this, House Speaker Thomas Jewell announced Friday the legislature is withholding pay of teachers in the two integrated schools in New Orleans and has placed the teachers under investigation.

Rep. Ritsley C. Triche, House floor leader, said the legislature intended to find out who is fighting segregation and implementing school integration.

The legislature tied up Orleans Parish School Board money in November. Later it voted $2.5 million to pay teachers salaries but left the way open for withholding money from teachers at the two New Orleans schools.

U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright, who issued the integration order, Friday ordered four local banks to show cause why they should not be enjoined from refusing to honor checks of the Orleans Parish School Board. The judge warned the banks they would do business with the board at their own risk. Wright set a hearing for Monday.

Greek Chorus Tuning Up Again!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

This column's Greek chorus of readers is tuning up once more. This time the pitch is my reply to D. D. a wife whose 29 years of marriage have been one quarrel after another. Of her seven children, one was wanted by the law, a second running around with a married woman and a third, like his father, had deserted his family for another woman.

"My husband finally left her," D. D. explained, "and we started over again. I try to forget but can't. Should I grin and bear it?"

Reading between the lines I tell that there were two sides to this story, especially where the children were concerned. Somewhere along the way D. D. must have failed them. I said so in a recent column, adding that the rearing of children is a mother's responsibility.

Your advice to D. D. is absolutely wrong," declared William Delbert, of Gary, Ind. "I'm surprised coming as it does from one supposed to be an authority on those things. Marriage and the raising of a family is a two people proposition, working in full cooperation at all times.

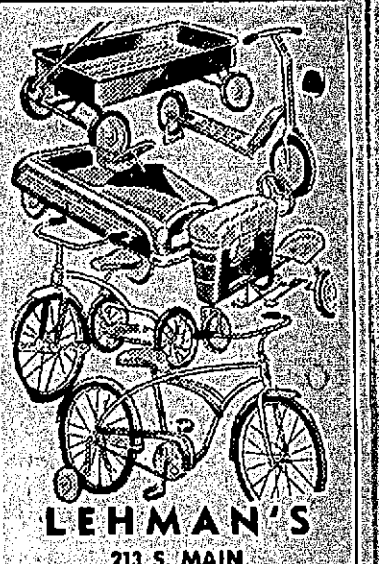

"I am happily married to the same woman 42 years. We have raised a family so I think I know something about the subject. For marriage to be a success you must have the love and respect of one another. Then too, the important thing is love of God and the Christian way of living."

Dr. Julian Wood Selig of Chapel Hill, N. C., sides with Mr. Delbert. "I was appalled to read your reply to D. D," the Doctor wrote. "If anyone has failed, it is you."

WCS Concludes Study

WCS of the First Methodist Church met Monday at the church for the last study on the mission book "In All The World Together" with the chairman Mrs. Dick Stewart in charge.

Miss Carol Scott gave the devotional and Mrs. L. C. Gallin read from the prayer calendar names of missionaries for who to pray. Mrs. Adrain Brockman gave a biography of Louise Shunger of the Belgian Congo.

WMS Has Day of Prayer

The second day of Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions of the WMS of the First Baptist Church was held Tuesday at the church with 18 members present.

Prayer for Foreign Missions

The WMS of the First Baptist Church was held Tuesday at the church with 18 members present. Mrs. Roy Stainton was program leader. The opening song was "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Names on the prayer calendar were read and prayer was offered by Mrs. A. R. Underwood. All joined in singing "Hark The Herald Angels Sing."

Topic for the day was "Seeing the Multitude Diseased." Each person was given a slip of paper with scripture verses and which were read in unison. Others on the program were Ms. Don Muse and Ms. Harrell Hines. Prayer requests for missionaries were read after silent prayer and prayer was voiced by Mrs. R. W. Burke. Mrs. Stainton gave the closing meditation. A prayer of dedication was given by Mrs. John McRae.

Memphis Zoo Is Desegregated

MEMPHIS (AP)—The Memphis municipal zoo and art gallery have been quietly desegregated. A sign at the zoo restricting Negro attendance to Thursdays only and whites to other days of the week, came down Thursday without fanfare. Cold weather kept attendance low but white persons and Negroes made the rounds of the attractions without incident. Negroes also were admitted to the art gallery on an unrestricted basis. The move came several weeks after the city commission ordered the Memphis library system desegregated. Suits to desegregate libraries, schools, the zoo and other municipal facilities are pending in federal court here.

the Republican nomination before the GOP convention, and the two possibly could battle for the nomination in 1964.

They met in Nixon's Capitol office today for an hour and a half. After the session, Rockefeller answered questions by waiting newsmen.

He said both he and Nixon recognized the magnitude of the international and national problems faced by the country and agreed that the party must take a positive rather than a negative position.

He added that in working to keep the party united he and Nixon will keep in touch through the national chairman and other channels of party communication.

Rockefeller parried several questions about his plans and proposals for the national scene in the next few years. He repeated that he will seek re-election as governor in 1962.

Rockefeller's recitation that he considers Nixon the party's leader in name only continued a disagreement with President Eisenhower who had indirectly taken issue with Rockefeller's earlier statement.

Eisenhower said at a White House dinner Wednesday night that Nixon should be regarded as head of the party the next four years.

Asked for comment on Eisenhower's view after visiting the President at the White House Thursday, Rockefeller told newsmen:

"I wouldn't want to debate with the President on that subject."

Thursday night Eisenhower renewed his statement - this time with Rockefeller in the audience. At another White House dinner, with the New York governor and Mrs. Rockefeller among the guests, Eisenhower repeated the toast in which he had tabbed Nixon as party chief.

Asked today if he had drunk a toast with Eisenhower to Nixon as the GOP standard bearer, Rockefeller laughed and replied: "I certainly did, wouldn't you?"

TRIAL BY SLANDER

CHAPTER XXX

The figure in the darkness behind the door started forward, then backtracked a step. It advanced again, bent slightly in an effort to see around the crack of the barely opened door into the light of the kitchen, and could not. Crouching against the wall a watchful suspicious expression slowly replaced bewilderment on the obscured face. Shoulders shrugged, then straightened; a head cocked to one side, ears strained for sounds on the other side of the door.

There was a gasping sound from the kitchen. The eyes of the intruder narrowed to slits.

A voice cursed.

Janet heard the voice and recognized the anger it contained.

He knows, she thought, while her dazed eyes searched the kitchen for a hiding place. She flicked off the kitchen light with one hand and picked up a dinner plate for a weapon with the other thinking numbly: At least he'll have to find me in the dark. Even as she repeated, "It's too late," under her breath the door swung wide; a siren sounded in the night. She saw a tall shadowy figure emerge and pause a moment before it swung around to the back door. A dim hope swelled within her, and the siren's wail grew louder. Simultaneously, a car's tires screeched around a curve in the road, and the intruder fled.

Janet rested against the wall while tears poured down her cheeks. Her body shook, and her teeth chattered. She heard the front doorbell ring and tried to call out that she was coming, but could not force the words from her throat or between her trembling lips. Finally, she groped along the wall, stumbled through the dining room and into the hall. She opened the front door and fell against Cliff, half fainting in relief.

"Mrs. Hamilton! What is the matter...?" He stood in the hall, his hair uncombed, his pajama trousers hanging from beneath his overcoat and repeated his question.

"Someone - someone in the house; in the basement. Footprints in back."

He left the room again and came back, his usually pleasant face hard. Junior trotted jauntily at his heels and she screamed, "Junior! There's Junior. He was gone and we called and called and we couldn't find him."

Cliff sat down beside her again and took her hand between his. "It's all right. You'll be all right. There are no footprints. Do you think you could stop shaking and just tell me what happened?"

She tried. She strained every muscle in her body to tell him of the terror-ridden night, but she could not make him understand.

She jerked her hand away, and the doorbell rang. Good, she thought. He's called the police station. Now they'll search. Now they'll know what I'm saying. Only it wasn't the police. It was Gene with his little black bag.

"Why are you here?" she said sharply. "Where are the police?" "Take it easy, Janet," he said, walking briskly into the living room and taking the place beside her that Cliff seemed only too willing to leave. He felt her pulse looked at her eyes and opened his bag to extract something before he rose to his feet. "Hold on a minute, sweetie."

Hope Cagers Win Two From Arkadelphia

Hope took a two-game sweep over Arkadelphia last night as the Bobcats edged the Badgers 37-35 in a thriller and the Kittens soundly trounced the Baby Badgers 49-20.

The rebounding of Eddie Fry and Billy Wallers plus the scoring of Duke Calhoun and Robinson to give Hope the two point margin. Guard Glen Calhoun led the Cats in points with 12 and was followed by Duke with 6, Robinson with 7, Danny Hatfield and Curtis Churchwell with 4 each, and Eddie Fry got 2 points to complete the scoring.

The Bobcats led 27-21 at the half but they were held to only three points in the third period, which narrowed the score to 30-20. But the Hope rebounding paid off as the Cats topped them with the final score 37-35. Big Ed McCorkle led the Badgers with 12 points.

Dan Jones led the Bobkittens with 12 points, and Wassie, McLarty and Sprague with 10, 9, and 8, respectively. The game proved to be all Hope as the Kittens led 28-11 at the half. Winters and Kingery led the Beavers with 9 and 8 points each.

Tonight the Bobcats and the B team travel to Little Rock for another non-conference game, this time with the Hall High Warriors.

Government

4. Over-all outlays for education must be doubled in 10 years. The state, local and federal government share by 1970 would be $3 billion.

That the proposals will add up to even more billions is clear from this partial listing: More federal aid to higher education, direct grants for school systems to low-income states and matching funds for richer states, higher teachers' salaries - in total, says the commission, a "large additional sum."

Federal and state loans and grants to help depression-ridden cities and towns build up their payrolls, and to provide retraining for factory workers who are replaced by machines.

"Much-increased retirement of farm land with emphasis on whole farms" - presumably by public purchase of the land.

More government money for new medical facilities, training of doctors and scholarships for medical students; and Strengthening of U. S. information activities overseas.

Only in the farm program does the commission see a possibility of some future lowering of government costs, through a gradual withdrawal of federal subsidies.

her and that she'd tricked him, but the two men seemed far away, she could not get her eyes open.

She heard Gene say, "Why do these things always happen to the nice people?"

"Yeah. With all the crumbs in the world." (To Be Continued)

Kennedy Calls

rice comes amid indications from the huge continent that the Congo situation has aroused fear and suspicion of Communist intentions. This is detectable even among leaders who consider themselves leftist and who are loud in their condemnation of the West.

If this is so, there is a chance that black Africa soon will simmer down, at least sufficiently to give its leaders a chance to assess cautiously what may lie ahead.

This by no means softens the warning by Sen. Kennedy that "the fate of Africa, which is now the object of a giant Communist offensive, will affect vitally the security of every citizen of the United States. There is no easy solution in store for black Africa's problems. It will remain the arena for a grim cold-war struggle."

But it will be important for Americans if African leaders realize that there is more than one kind of outside domination. The Africans are familiar with the sort which came from Europe and which has just about been consigned forever to history. Africans have had no experience with modern Communist colonialism which surrenders none of the vast territories it has conquered.

The Congo remains a key to Africa's immediate future. There is little hope for stability while superimposed African leaders look upon Red interference in the Congo as an instrument to further their own ambitions.

But Westerners who know Africa say what has been going on among its new nations has been a sort of flexing of muscles in a contest to determine which will emerge as the leading influence in the continent.

Probably, in the long run, neither Ghana nor Guinea, which seem to be in the forefront of that contest, will be strong enough to occupy the role. The emergence of Nigeria is among factors working against the pretensions of the other two to leadership. Indeed, Nigeria can turn out to be, eventually, a significant force for stability in African politics.

Undoubtedly most young African leaders are impatient to erase all traces of European colonialism. Britain and France, the major colonial powers, aware that the old sort of imperialism is dead, have been seeking to bridge the colonial era and independence.

Moscow wants no such bridge. Immediate independence for 41 dependent areas would suit Moscow's purposes, since it would foretold chaos, confusion and rivalries.

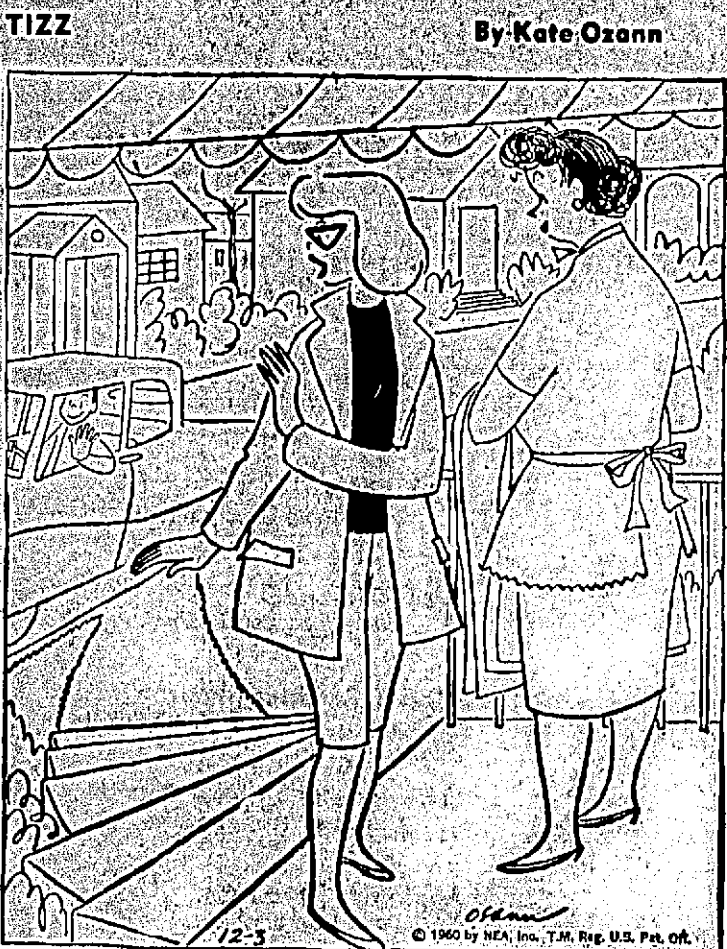

Africans may be tumbling to this. One indication is a recent Asian-African resolution in the U. N. which, though it seeks the end of colonialism, makes its demand read "quick steps toward" independence. The word "toward" suggests Africans, too, see a need for a bridge, in the light of the Congo experience. The resolution probably jolted Moscow.

James Cleaners
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. James

THE MAN who has no Faith in God, nor any human being is dead as a cinder... he has spiritual leukemia. Faith is the root of all blessing. Faith can light up your soul in the darkest night.

HOPE is our highest expectation of good. Surely, Hope maintains most mankind. Hope must be the tie that keeps the heart from breaking. Hope is a carpet along the road man must walk to the Glory Land.

LOVE, the greatest of the three. Love suffers long and is gentle; love never fails. Surely love must be the crowning grace. You will find these spiritual vitamins at your church... don't miss a service.

The Churches of This Community, Are the Only Institutions Which Have as Their Main Function, the Transforming of Human Lives
They Are the Sign Boards Pointing the Way to God.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through this series of pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat
Communism on all front . . . to be faithful to God.

Our Ministers Are God's Servants Who Call the Signals Against the Organized Forces of Evil. They Invite You to Enlist On the Side For God. . . to Come to Church.

"HE WHO WAITS UPON THE LORD SHALL RENEW HIS FAITH"
